

GOODBYE BOX * Written by Lydia Waldrop and Melissa Shackelford

I know you wanna see me cry
But that ain't happenin tonight
Even you can't take away my smile
It took too long to finally see
The way that you were treatin me
Guess I had to walk that extra mile
But I realized today it's okay to throw some stuff away

Got myself a goodbye box
For all the things I'm gonna toss
After all the new wears off it takes up too much space
Just like some worn out shoes
That you know that it's time to lose
That's how I look at you
Time to put you in your place
But I realized today it's okay to throw some stuff away

Momma said that it's just fine
If I give myself a little time
All I gotta do is close the door
Goodbyes are hard to do
And baby this one is just for you
Gotta find me something new
Like I should've done before
But I realized today it's okay to throw some stuff away

Got myself a goodbye box
For all the things I'm gonna toss
After all the new wears off it takes up too much space
Just like some worn out shoes
That you know that it's time to lose
That's how I look at you
Time to put you in your place
But I realized today it's okay to throw some stuff away

Goodbye blues
I'm so done with you
I'm walkin out the door
I don't need you anymore

Got myself a goodbye Box
For all the things I'm gonna toss
After all the new wears off it takes up too much space
Just like some worn out shoes
That you know that it's time to lose
That's how I look at you
Time to put you in your place
But I realized today it's okay to throw some stuff away
To throw some stuff away oh
Goodbye yeah
Oh yeah
To throw some stuff away
Oh yeah
To throw some stuff away
